

SAMPLE MULTIPLE CHOICE QUESTIONS

FOUNDATIONS UNIT
(8000 BCE – 600 CE)

Which of the following is NOT true of the ancient pyramids?

- A) They were built by slaves and corvee labor
- B) They served as tombs for pharaoh
- C) Their structure indicates a knowledge-based relationship with ancient China
- D) They are reflective of advanced geometric knowledge

Which of the following is NOT true of the ancient pyramids?

A) They were built by slaves and corvee labor

B) They served as tombs for pharaoh

C) Their structure indicates a knowledge-based relationship with ancient China

D) They are reflective of advanced geometric knowledge

Which choice best characterizes the relationship between early civilizations and writing?

- A) Writing permitted record-keeping for trade and governments
- B) Writing was more important to the development of civilization than sedentary agriculture
- C) Most civilizations developed without writing systems
- D) No significant civilization developed without a system of writing

Which choice best characterizes the relationship between early civilizations and writing?

- A) Writing permitted record-keeping for trade and governments
- B) Writing was more important to the development of civilization than sedentary agriculture
- C) Most civilizations developed without writing systems
- D) No significant civilization developed without a system of writing

Based on available knowledge, which of the following
Was NOT a part of Homo Erectus' world?

A) Tool making

B) Language

C) Hunting

D) Agriculture

Based on available knowledge, which of the following
Was NOT a part of Homo Erectus' world?

A) Tool making

B) Language

C) Hunting

D) Agriculture

The geographic factors presented here led to the Development of which highly complex and distinctive Civilization by the year 600 CE?

- Fertile river valleys
- Isolating mountain ranges
- Dependable monsoon weather patterns

- A) Indian
- B) Mayan
- C) Sumerian
- D) Greek

The geographic factors presented here led to the Development of which highly complex and distinctive Civilization by the year 600 CE?

- Fertile river valleys
- Isolating mountain ranges
- Dependable monsoon weather patterns

A) Indian

B) Mayan

C) Sumerian

D) Greek

Which lasting pattern in the history of the subcontinent can we trace to the period of the Maurya and Gupta Empires in India?

- A) Strong sponsorship of Hindu beliefs
- B) Invasion and rule by nomadic invaders
- C) Difficulty in maintaining centralized imperial rule
- D) Long and generally unbroken eras of centralized imperial rule

Which lasting pattern in the history of the subcontinent can we trace to the period of the Maurya and Gupta Empires in India?

- A) Strong sponsorship of Hindu beliefs
- B) Invasion and rule by nomadic invaders
- C) Difficulty in maintaining centralized imperial rule
- D) Long and generally unbroken eras of centralized imperial rule

Confucian thought falls most neatly into which of the following categories?

- A) Conservative political philosophy aiming to preserve a hierarchical status quo
- B) Prophetic millennial ideology preparing the masses for an impending judgment day
- C) Spiritual guide to gaining salvation for the individual's eternal soul
- D) Revolutionary ideology aimed at dismantling social hierarchy

Confucian thought falls most neatly into which of the following categories?

- A) Conservative political philosophy aiming to preserve a hierarchical status quo
- B) Prophetic millennial ideology preparing the masses for an impending judgment day
- C) Spiritual guide to gaining salvation for the individual's eternal soul
- D) Revolutionary ideology aimed at dismantling social hierarchy

Which of the following best describes how Chinese Imperial elites viewed their civilization in relation to the rest of the world?

- A) China was a unique and superior civilization surrounded by barbarians of one sort or another
- B) China was one member of a peer group of advanced civilizations
- C) China was a rising civilization learning from and preparing to overtake existing world powers
- D) China was a great civilization trapped in an irreversible decline due to nomadic invasion and inability to support massive population growth

Which of the following best describes how Chinese Imperial elites viewed their civilization in relation to the rest of the world?

- A) China was a unique and superior civilization surrounded by barbarians of one sort or another
- B) China was one member of a peer group of advanced civilizations
- C) China was a rising civilization learning from and preparing to overtake existing world powers
- D) China was a great civilization trapped in an irreversible decline due to nomadic invasion and inability to support massive population growth

Confucianism differed from Hinduism in that

- A) Confucianism held women as subordinate to men
- B) Confucianism detailed the levels of social hierarchy in more specific terms
- C) Confucianism more clearly outlined guidelines for behavior
- D) Confucianism emphasized earthly obligations without regard to concerns relating to afterlife and rebirth

Confucianism differed from Hinduism in that

- A) Confucianism held women as subordinate to men
- B) Confucianism detailed the levels of social hierarchy in more specific terms
- C) Confucianism more clearly outlined guidelines for behavior
- D) Confucianism emphasized earthly obligations without regard to concerns relating to afterlife and rebirth

Which is the closest similarity between the Roman Empire and the Han dynasty of ancient China?

- A) Both aimed for and experienced long periods of isolationism in world affairs
- B) Both created a government run by elected officials known as senators
- C) Both achieved long periods of centralized government and expanding economies
- D) Both afforded women equal opportunities to wield political power as men

Which is the closest similarity between the Roman Empire and the Han dynasty of ancient China?

- A) Both aimed for and experienced long periods of isolationism in world affairs
- B) Both created a government run by elected officials known as senators
- C) Both achieved long periods of centralized government and expanding economies
- D) Both afforded women equal opportunities to wield political power as men

One major difference between the fall of the Roman Empire and the fall of the Han dynasty in China was

- A) dynastic China would return to equal and even greater prominence
- B) the Roman Empire left little basis for subsequent developments in Western civilizations
- C) the Roman Empire collapsed due to multiple causes while Han China fell to peasant unrest alone
- D) Han China adopted a new state religion in its later phase while the Roman Empire did not

One major difference between the fall of the Roman Empire and the fall of the Han dynasty in China was

- A) dynastic China would return to equal and even greater prominence
- B) the Roman Empire left little basis for subsequent developments in Western civilizations
- C) the Roman Empire collapsed due to multiple causes while Han China fell to peasant unrest alone
- D) Han China adopted a new state religion in its later phase while the Roman Empire did not

